PRODUCT RELEASE NOTICE

EUNICE™ RELEASE 5.0

EUNICE RELEASE IDENTIFICATION

This is Wollongong's EUNICE, Release 5.0. This release consists of the following items:

- This Product Release Notice.

- One 2400-foot distribution tape (or, for a MicroVAX™, one TK50 cartridge). For SCCS customers, SCCS is distributed on a separate 600-foot tape (or, for a MicroVAX, SCCS is on the same TK50 cartridge as the EUNICE distribution).

  The distribution tape contains nine save-sets or, for sites with an AT&T system V.2 or greater license, 10 save-sets. (The tenth save-set contains the latest System V SCCS software*.) Table 1 shows the distribution of save-sets versus systems.

TABLE 1. Tape Save-sets

system	AT&T < V.2		AT&T >= V.2
SCCS	no		yes
media	TK50	tape	TK50	tape
save-sets	9	9	10	9
save-sets	0	0	0	1

- Updated change pages (Release 4.3.2) for the Release 4.3 documentation set.

MicroVAX is a trademark of Digital Equipment Corporation.
EUNICE is a trademark of The Wollongong Group, Inc.
* Only for properly licensed sites.

RELEASE NOTES

This new EUNICE Release 5.0 supports VMS™ 5.0.

CVTUAF now performs rooted file specification translations. This is a system maintenance function. It converts the SYSUAF.DAT file to the /etc/passwd file.

INSTALLATION

For installation procedures, see the Administrator's Guide for Release 4.3.2.

> NOTE: After completing the installation as instructed there is another step. You must enter the following command:

> $ @TWG$ADMIN:TREEWALK

UNRESOLVED ISSUES

1. In a cluster environment, EUNICE utilities do not recognize temporary filenames with extended PIDs.

2. EUNICE does not support LTAs or VTAs properly if LTA or VTA devices exceed unit #999.

3. f77 does not create VMS-style objects.

4. The csh umask command causes the delete bit to be set in the VMS file permissions mask. When no umask is specified in the .login file, the default VMS protection is used for file creation.

5. Franz LISP generates a "stopped tty input" error at start in the csh. To continue, enter as follows:

       % fg

   This command brings the LISP process to the foreground.

VMS is a trademark of Digital Equipment Corporation.
